

Checklist For Movers.

Moving home can be one of the most stressful experiences you have to undertake. If you follow our useful checklist, hopefully you'll be left wondering what all the fuss was about!

1. Notify your bank of your change of address	2. Take readings from your meters (both properties)
3. Take appropriate action with regards Home Insurance.	4. Make suitable arrangements for your pets.
5. If you have any contract agreements, i.e. Sky TV, mobile phones etc. Contact your provider.	6. Ensure that there's adequate parking for the Removal vehicles.
7. Notify your credit card companies of your change of address.	8. Pack early & wisely! Do you need to take it all with you?
9. If you hold a Club Card or are a catalogue customer- notify the companies concerned.	10. Redirect your mail.
11. Don't forget your TV license requires a change of address .	12. Remember to notify your employer.
13. Notify DVLA about your change of address. They will issue you with a new Log Book.	14. Inform your car insurance company, and the Breakdown cover provider also.
15. Register with a new Doctor and Dentist.	16. Cancel the milk and newspaper deliveries
17. Make sure fridges and freezers are defrosted well in advance.	18. Remember to keep valuables to hand.

Pack early and wisely

Before you start to pack, force yourself to de-clutter. Once you've got your possessions down to a manageable amount, make sure breakable and valuable items are safely wrapped, and set aside a bag to keep with you for important documents, jewellery and items of sentimental value. Every box and bag should be labelled with its destination, such as the room and any special instructions to the movers.

Make a survival pack

The last box to go on – and the first to come off the removal van. This should carry everything you need for that day. Include cleaning products, a kettle, cutlery, a pen and paper, toolkit, light bulbs, bread and milk, snacks, a flask of tea or coffee, takeaway menus, mobile phone charger and essential toiletries such as your toothbrush. Put in a set of bedding, a towel and a change of clothes or any work clothes for the next day in case you're too exhausted.

